FUNDRAISING GUIDE

We are so excited that you've decided to come to Camp Celebrate this year! We understand that the financial burden of camp can feel heavy, so we've created this document to help you brainstorm creative ways to raise money for camp.

Below are some ideas and methods that past families have successfully used to fundraise for Camp Celebrate. If you're struggling at any point, please don't hesitate to reach out for help. Scholarships are also available to assist with camp fees.

FUNDRAISING

There are several ways to fundraise for your camp fees, and one of the most effective methods we've found is using an online platform. Websites like GoFundMe or SupportNow make it easy to share your story and reach out to friends and family.

The first step is to create a fundraiser on one of these websites. Below, we've provided a sample text you can use or edit to get started. Once your fundraiser is set up, we recommend sending a personalized email to friends and family who may want to support you. Sharing your fundraiser on social media is also highly effective, as you never know who might be willing to help.

SAMPLE FUNDRAISER DESCRIPTION

Our family has the opportunity to attend a family camp this summer specifically for families impacted by disability. We are so excited about the respite this camp will provide, allowing our children to be loved and celebrated for exactly who they are. We're asking for help in covering our tuition so we can experience this incredible week of rest and renewal in the mountains of East Tennessee. Please consider donating through the link below. Thank you for your support!

CHURCH DONATIONS

Another option for covering camp fees is asking your church for support. Many past campers have had their church pay for their full tuition or contribute a scholarship toward it. We recommend meeting with your pastor, sharing about Camp Celebrate, and asking if the church could sponsor your family. Often, churches can allocate sponsorship funds from their missions or outreach budget.

ORANGE GROVE PROGRAM

Some families we serve qualify for a local Tennessee program called Orange Grove, which provides grants that can be used toward camp fees. This program offers funding per child impacted by disability. To learn more, visit their website at Orange Grove Center. Applications are usually due in April.

TENNESSEE RESPITE COALITION

Another option is the Tennessee Respite Coalition, which offers grants that can help cover camp tuition. Several past campers have used this program to fund their fees. For more information, visit Tennessee Caregiver.

SCHOLARSHIPS

If you need additional support, you can apply for a scholarship through Luke 14 Ministries. For questions about the application process, email Katie, and she will assist you.
